If you want to stay for a couple extra days or come in early, please discuss these plans with the ABC travel representative. These will be additional charges outside of the conference cost. You will not be reimbursed for transportation cost to or from the hotel if you choose this option.

Please understand that conference space will be limited to approximately 70 conference attendees (spouses/partners are not included in this number and are welcomed). Register early.

All presenters must pay by the end of the regular registration on March 30, 2016 or lose your space in the program. All airline tickets from Miami to Havana will need to be purchased through the tab on the website. This is labeled Airline tickets. If you arrange travel on your own you may not be able to travel by bus with the group. (This is a change)

We will working with a local travel agency. We have a contact here but submit all questions to FYI-CSI as they are very slow in responding. Thank you.

Please be aware that we are working with a travel agency to take care of all visas and licenses required to travel to Cuba from Miami. It is important to understand that in traveling to Cuba, many of their rules and laws are different and need to be strictly adhered to.

Havana is a very safe place to travel but just as traveling anywhere, you need to use common sense.
